The turn off for the pottery is NOT sign-posted. The only sign is a small blue sign: "Not Suitable for Motors" - however the lane is suitable for vehicles (up to 7.5T) as far as the house / pottery, where there is parking and turning space. If coming from direction of Oswestry on A483 the turn off for the pottery is on the right about 300m past the turning for Morda (on right) (B5069). The turn off for the bottom of the lane is very hard to see until you are about to pass it (there is a triangular warning road sign on left just before the turning). SatNav often sends people in the wrong direction! If you get lost please telephone for directions...
